Introduction

Changes made by the Education and Skills Act 2008 require schools, in the delivery of their statutory requirement to provide careers education, to ensure that information about learning options and careers is presented impartially and that advice promotes the best interests of pupils. This Guidance identifies six principles of good quality, impartial careers education; namely that it:

- Empowers young people to plan and manage their own futures.
- Responds to the needs of each learner.
- Provides comprehensive information and advice.
- Raises aspirations.
- Actively promotes equality of opportunity and challenges stereotypes.
- Helps young people to progress.

Aims of Dove House School

- Successful learners who enjoy learning, make progress and achieve.
